The Nevada Department of Corrections (NDOC) reports that at approximately 1:00 AM this morning a minimum security male inmate was discovered missing from his bunk at the Stewart Conservation Camp located in South Carson City, Nevada. He was last seen sleeping on his bunk at the camp around midnight.

Inmate Billy Joe Williamson II, #1089460, a 28 year old white male, arrived at NDOC from Washoe County May 19, 2017. Williamson was serving 12 to 30 months for Attempted Grand Larceny of a Motor Vehicle. He was last seen with his hair in dread locks but may have cut them off. He may still be wearing inmate clothing consisting of blue jeans, a white tee and blue button down shirt.

Williamson has a number of tattoos. The most noticeable are the red lips on his upper left side of his face. He has the words "Brittinese" and "Breana Faye" in script on both sides of his neck as well as many other tattoos on his arms and elsewhere. Williamson is 6 feet 1 inches tall, 190 lbs, blue eyes, brown hair with a fair complexion.

A retake warrant has been issued. Staff from the NDOC and the Inspector General's Office are actively searching. Anyone with information on whereabouts of Billy Joe Williamson II, please contact 911 or their local law enforcement agency.

NDOC partners with the Nevada Division of Forestry to run nine (9) Conservation Camps in the state. The camps are for minimum security inmates who are scheduled to be released within two years. Inmates in the camps are trained to fight wildland fires and are deployed to handle weed abatement, highway clean-up and other jobs when in the off season.
